Southeastern Community College’s Continuing Education Division will offer two classes in “The Art of Jewelry Making” on the college campus in T-121. The first class will meet on Saturdays, October 17 through December 12 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the second class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, November 5 through November 24 from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. A $65 registration fee is required for each class and must be paid at the first class meeting.

Students will be introduced to the history, basic design elements and fabrication of contemporary and traditional jewelry. Through hands-on class instruction, participants will explore various techniques associated with jewelry making and will learn about the differences in beads, crystals and pearls. Each student will make a project using the techniques taught in this class. In addition to acquiring the skills necessary for making jewelry, the instructor will share ways in which to market finished products to the general public. Supplies will be available for purchase at the first class meeting.
