Internet: Understanding Blogs, Wikis, & Social Networking Course Offered by SCC

Southeastern Community College's Continuing Education Division will offer an "Internet: Understanding Blogs, Wikis, & Social Networking" class on Mondays, October 19 through December 7 from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. in CART-108 on the college campus. Christy Deal, Columbus County Public Schools Technology Technician, will be the instructor. She has 10 years of experience with computer hardware, software and the Internet technologies that you will discover in this course. A $65 fee is required the first evening of class.

By enrolling in this course, you will increase and refine your knowledge of the Internet's social networks through guided hands-on instruction. You will learn the ins and outs of blogs. You will become familiar with these online, interactive diaries and how they are changing the way people express themselves and share information. Also, you will explore how to use wikis, user-generated websites where visitors browse and update information, to create an outlet of collective intelligence, as well as explore many other Internet uses of social networking to connect with friends, businesses and groups with similar interest(s).

The class requires pre-registration. To pre-register for this course call Southeastern Community College at (910) 642-7141, ext. 296, 397 or 425 by October 15th.
