Electrical Contractor's License Renewal Course Offered at SCC

The Small Business Center at Southeastern Community College is offering Changes to the 2008 National Electrical Code Part III, a course approved by the State Board of Examiners of Electrical Contractors. This course will be taught on Saturday, November 14 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in T-101 at the college by Terry Quinn. The fee will be $65 plus $10 (includes class materials and lunch).

Changes to the 2008 National Electrical Code courses are designed for licensed contractors, electrical inspectors, and persons wishing to learn about the changes in the National Electrical Code. This course will include handouts that provide comprehensive explanations and illustrations of the new changes. The most important changes to the code will be covered during this eight-hour class.
