

Rams Club Seeks Members to Support SCC Athletics

Southeastern Community College, one of only a few community colleges in the region with intercollegiate baseball and softball teams, relies on the generous support of the Rams Club to operate its athletic programs.

The Rams Club is critical to the success of SCC's baseball and softball teams because community colleges in North Carolina cannot use state funds to support athletics.

"Last year, the SCC baseball team advanced to the World Series for the first time in our College's history, but without the support of the Rams Club, I just don't know how we would have been able to send the team to compete in Oklahoma," said Clarence Ganus, SCC athletic director. "Not only are we looking forward to another stellar baseball season, but our softball team also boasts a talented roster and is poised for success."

The Rams Club offers a variety of membership packages, which start at $50. A membership form is available on the Athletics page of the College's website, www.sccnc.edu. Checks should be made payable to the SCC Foundation and mailed to The Rams Club, c/o Southeastern Community College, PO Box 151, Whiteville, NC 28472. Checks made to the SCC Foundation are tax deductible.

In addition to joining the Rams Club, individuals may support the organization by purchasing cooked Boston Butts that will be distributed on Saturday, Feb. 18, during the home baseball and softball games, which start at noon. Boston butt tickets are $25; $10 is for the cost of item, and $15 is considered a tax deductible donation. Tickets can be purchased from any athlete, member of the Rams Club or by contacting Clarence Ganus at (910) 642-7141, ext. 254. Ganus can also provide additional information about Rams Club membership.
